" Life is but a walking shadow,
... that struts and frets his hour upon the stage ..."

I shoot almost exclusively in black and white to explore the drama on the urban stage. The images are not dispassionate records. I try to share both the raw impact of the moment and its impact on my imagination. Both tangible and intangible elements of the compositions are in play.

Once captured we suspend disbelief and become a part of the world that is depicted. I hope that my images engage you and that you enjoy them. The click is mine; the narrative is yours.

Each image in the following display is a scene from an urban drama.
